The Compassionate Classroom

Appendix
References

SECTION I

CHAPTER ONE

CHAPTER TWO

The Compassionate Classroom

6 Personal communication with Marianne Gothlin, 2002.

7 Personal communication with Marianne Gothlin, 2002.

9 Personal communication with Marianne Gothlin, 2002.

SECTION II

CHAPTER THREE

Resources

Books on Nonviolent Communication for Educators

Marshall Rosenberg presents a radical approach to education, showing how teachers, students, and administrators can apply the principles of Nonviolent Communication to create extraordinary schools that solve the complex problems facing schools today.
PuddleDancer Press, Fall 2003

PuddleDancer Press, 2003
A complete presentation of the Nonviolent Communication process, clarified and illustrated through stories, exercises, and dialogues.
Order at www.cnvc.org or 1-800-255-7696.

Parenting From Your Heart: Sharing the Gifts of Compassion, Connection, and Choice, Inbal Kashtan.
PuddleDancer Press, 2004
A 48-page booklet that addresses the challenges of parenting with real-world solutions for creating family relationships that meet everyone’s needs.
Order at www.cnvc.org or 1-800-255-7697.
The Compassionate Classroom

Teaching Children Compassionately: How Students and Teachers Can Succeed with Mutual Understanding, Marshall B. Rosenberg.
PuddleDancer Press, 2004
A 48-page booklet taken from a keynote address and workshop given to a national conference of Montessori educators.
Order at www.cnvc.org or 1-800-255-7697.

A 36-page booklet filled with insights and stories to support people who want to nurture children and themselves.
Order at www.cnvc.org or 1-800-255-7696.

The Mayor of Jackal Heights, Rita Herzog and Kathy Smith.
An illustrated story—for children of all ages—about a boy mayor who begins to learn how to tame his town full of jackals with the help of his wise friend, Giraffe.
Order at www.cnvc.org or 1-800-255-7696.

Games for Speaking Compassion: Fun Ways to Teach Nonviolent Communication to Kids, H. Holley Humphrey.
Order at www.empathymagic.com or 1-541-862-2043.

Compassionate Communication and Waldorf Schools, John Cunningham.
This booklet has a dual purpose: to introduce the practice of Compassionate (Nonviolent) Communication to those interested in Waldorf education, and to provide a useful resource for learning this process.
To order, visit www.empathy-conexus.com.
Appendix

NVC Classroom Materials

Nonviolent Communication for Educators
(audiotape) by Marshall Rosenberg
(formerly Nonviolent Communication: A Language of the Heart)

Giraffe and Jackal puppets and ears
can be ordered from CNVC at www.cnvc.org or 1-800-255-7696.

Feeling Detours Board Game,
created by Marlene Marskornick

A fun way for players (ages 9+) to practice making distinctions between feelings and “feeling detours” such as, “I feel attacked,” “I feel they are being rude”, “You make me mad.” Everything you need to “manufacture” this game is available on disk: game board, cards, guidebook, directions for playing. Contact marlenem@fidalgo.net.

Recommended Websites

Center for Nonviolent Communication
www.cnvc.org

Information about NVC trainings and projects worldwide is posted and updated on the website, along with NVC books, audiotapes and videos. You will also find contact information for regional NVC groups and for individual trainers around the world.
The Compassionate Classroom

PuddleDancer Press
www.NonviolentCommunication.com

Our web site helps you conveniently find and purchase our publications online, has detailed information about each of the publications we offer, support for PR and marketing efforts related to NVC, details of Marshall Rosenberg’s background, ideas, and FAQs, Press related materials for producers and journalists, information about PuddleDancer Press and how to work with us, additional Resources including articles, reading lists, foreign rights publishing info, and more!

Kindle-Hart Communication
www.k-hcommunication.com

Victoria Kindle Hodson and Sura Hart, authors of The Compassionate Classroom: Relationship Based Teaching and Learning, offer workshops for educators and parents on Creating Compassionate Classrooms, Creating Compassionate Homes, and Conflict Resolution.

Partnership Education
www.partnershipway.org

Based on Riane Eisler’s book Tomorrow’s Children, Partnership Education provides a large frame for designing curriculum that promotes tolerance, understanding of our interconnectedness, and partnership relationships.

World Core Curriculum
www.unol.org/rms

World Core Curriculum offers a vast curricular frame, educating young people about their place in time and space—in families, local cultures, the world environment, and the universe.

Educators for Social Responsibility
www.esrnational.org

ESR offers well-tested curriculum materials and teacher training programs focusing on issues of social justice and peacemaking.
Appendix

Recommended Reading

The Compassionate Classroom

Appendix

The Compassionate Classroom

